Opening of London Office

Sumitomo Precision Products Co., Ltd. (head office in Amagasaki City, Hyogo Prefecture; President - Susumu Kaminaga) has opened and formally registered an overseas liaison office in London. The new office is intended to serve as a base for market research and market development activities in Europe and surrounding regions, and also as a base from which to search for new businesses and technologies.

By having an office in the United Kingdom, the company expects to strengthen its partnership with many companies in the area of equipment for commercial aircraft, commercial aircraft engine, thermal/energy technologies, environmental technologies, MEMS and nanotechnologies.

Furthermore, by efficiently collecting information and transferring this information to the head office and by conducting market development activities and seeking new business opportunities for adoption in the near future, the new office will contribute to the global expansion of the company's businesses.
